Constable Freed
In Negro Killing

TALLAHASSEE — Henry P. Sauls gets his job back as Taylor County constable after being acquitted of civil rights violation charges growing out of the shooting of a 19-year-old Negro.

Sauls was suspended by Gov. Farris Bryant following his indictment by a federal grand jury. But a trial jury yesterday found him innocent of killing Joe Dumas at Perry without due process of law, and the governor's office said he would be reinstated automatically.
