TAKEN FROM JAIL, NEGRO IS KILLED

MARIANNA, Fla., June 16 (AP)—Cellos Harrison, 31-year-old Negro charged with killing a white man, was taken from the Jackson county jail early today by four masked men and apparently clubbed to death.

Harrison's body was found at daylight on a road five miles south of Marianna.

Deputy Sheriff A. J. McMullen said Harrison had been killed by blows on his head, and added, "We didn't find any bullet holes in his body."

Jailer Tom Belser said four appeared at the jail soon after midnight and told him they had a 'drunk' man they wanted locked up. When Belser opened the jail door, one of the men, all of whom were masked, held a pistol on him while the others took Harrison from his cell.

Was In and Out.

Harrison once was convicted for the 1940 killing of Johnnie Mayo, filling station operator, in a robbery attempt. His conviction was affirmed by the supreme court, and then, on a rehearing by the court, it was reversed on the ground that a confession was not properly admissible as evidence.

The indictment against Harrison then was not pressed by circuit court and Harrison was released. A new indictment was returned by the Jackson county grand jury a few weeks ago and Harrison was being held in jail awaiting trial.
